

Consider Your Coparent's Response

ACTIVE CONFLICT RESOLUTION: LESSON 3

Receive
your coparent's
response in a helpful
way.

Thank them for responding even if it's not what you wanted to hear.

Separate the substantive response to your concern from any unhelpful packaging.

Lock in any accommodations
you've received...

...and ignore hurtful
comments.

If they deny your request - how can you address their reservations - in order to find the win-win scenario for you both?

Is the accommodation you requested worth the expense of a professional meeting or filing a motion?

If not, then it's time to let the matter drop and move on.
