

Love and Be Loved

List three positive statements you've made in the past month about your Coparent to your child.

What have you said or done recently to make your child feel like they aren't allowed to talk about their other parent?

Have you recently encouraged your child to love and celebrate their relationship with their other parent?

In what ways do you create an environment of inclusion at your child's events?
